No. 1, first housed the high school in 1901.

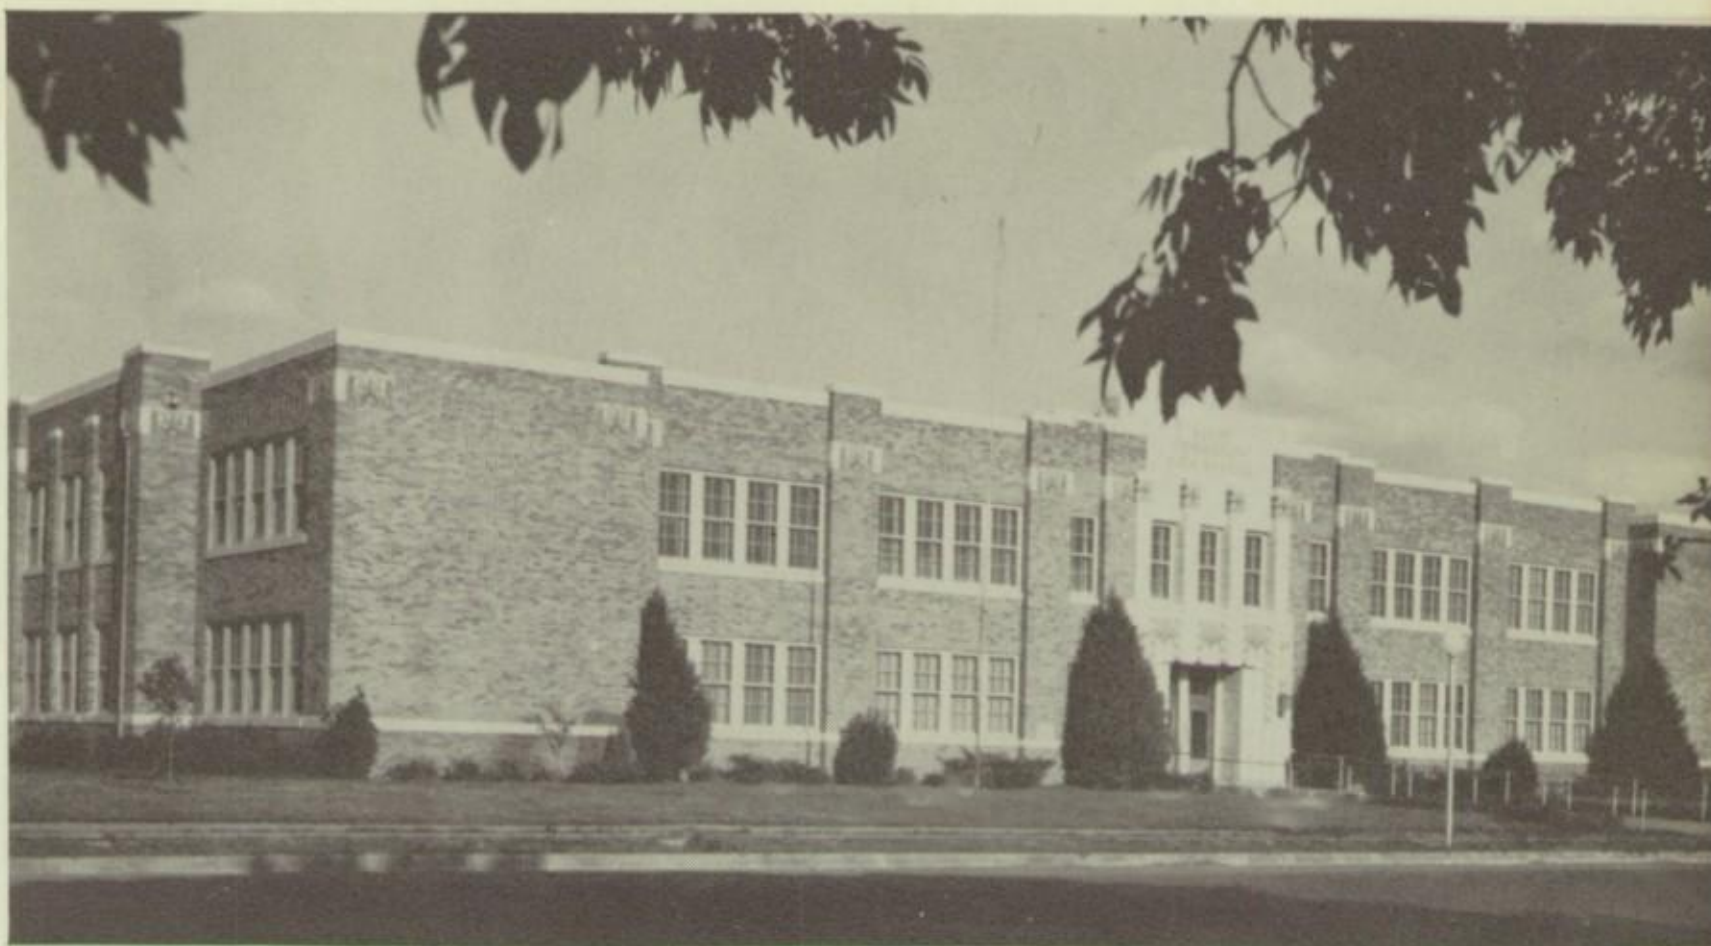

FIFTY YEARS OF GROWTH

This year Scott Community High School is observing its Golden Anniversary. In recognition of this the Beaver Staff reviews for you by word and picture some glimpses into the past. The "then and now" history starts back fifty years ago when the school opened with one faculty member and thirteen students. Then, the high school occupied one room upstairs in the grade school building which was located on the site of the present Scott County Hospital. In 1908 the grade school moved to its present location and the high school occupied the entire old building. Four new rooms were added in 1920 to make more space for the rapidly growing school. The Scott County High School became the Scott Community High School in 1925 when the control was given to a six man board of education. A study hall and vocational agriculture room were added in 1926. Finally, in 1930 the school moved to the new, modern building on Main Street.

Fifty years have seen many changes in Scott Community High School. The enrollment has increased from 13 students in 1901 to an all time high of 289 in 1948. The first graduation class in 1905 had three members: Samuel W. Filson, Lester F. Filson, and Benjamin A. Card. In 1940 the largest class ever to graduate numbered 70. Over the half century a total of 1371 students have graduated from our school.

In those fifty years our school has grown from a single room upstairs in the old grade school building to a three building campus with lighted athletic field and tennis courts. But fifty years have not changed the spirit of Scott Community High School. Our growing numbers have increased the volume of our yells at games, but the essential inner feeling of loyalty and love of our school has been the same in each student for half a century and it will be the same in the year 2001.

RIGHT

The Vocational Agriculture building which houses the shop, manual training, mechanical drawing, and the art department always is the scene of much activity. This building was added in 1936.

The Field House located east of the Darner athletic field was built in 1948. A large garage of similar construction stands just south of this building.

DEDICATION

To all the friends and patrons, past and present, who have helped with the progress of Scott Community High School during this past half century the Staff dedicates this 1951 Golden Anniversary issue of the Beaver.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Six members, elected by the voters, with Mr. Burnett, and Mrs. Mildred Conine, county superintendent, meet monthly, giving generously both of time and energy to chart the course of our school's administration.

The board, through its untiring efforts, keeps our school abreast of the progress in education, and is responsible for making SCHS an attractive and efficient place in which to study.

W. N. Robinson, Prosper Minnix, Claude Hughes, Mildred Conine, Earl J. Van Antwerp, Robert Burnett, and Marvin Brower.

Committee reports are being given in Mr. Wood's newly organized current affairs class. The class also helped to conduct the polio drive in the community and in the school (right).

Color and design are the main worry of these art students (left) who are working on their projects under the direction of Mrs. Miller.

GLIMPSES OF

Hurry! Hurry! is the motto of the journalism class (left) on the day of the publishing of the school paper, the Beaver Booster. Mr. Ohmart and class concentrating on the art of putting their work down on paper in mechanical drawing (below left). What's cooking, kids? These future homemakers, under the direction of Miss Epler, are learning the art of cookery (below).

For some the library (left) is dedicated to study, especially since the addition of the new tables, chairs, and lighting system.

Miss McKee's typing I students (right) learn a better system of typing than hunt and peck.

HOW WE STUDY

Chemistry (right) with all its mysteries and headaches obviously appeals to these fledgling scientists. What makes an auto engine run and how to make it run are what these boys are learning in auto mechanics (below right). Biology (below) means cutting up frogs to Mr. Miller's classes. Included in the fun are Virginia White, Ken Hoover, and Thelma Shafer.

SCHS CLASSES

IN ACTION

Classmates watch in admiration as Bob Nelson of the boys' physical education class (above left) exhibits his skill at a flip. Mrs. Costello's dramatics class in the act of planning another play for the school's entertainment (above).

HONOR SENIORS

HERBERT HERMES

NORBERT HERMES

CITIZENSHIP

Two of a kind, Herbert and Norbert were honored by being selected as the outstanding citizens of the senior class. The characteristics of these good school citizens are given in this anonymous poem:

"It's doing your job the best you can,
And being just to your fellow man,
It's figuring how, and learning why,
And looking forward and thinking high,
It's serving and striving through strain and stress,
It's doing your noblest - that's citizenship."

MARVEL SCOTT

HARLAN PARKINSON

ACHIEVEMENT

Each year one girl and one boy from the senior class are chosen as the outstanding students of the year on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and school activities.

Marvel Scott and Harlan Parkinson were selected because of their records in many activities for the good of the school and for their personality and character.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY GRADUATING CLASS

As Scott Community High School can look back upon 50 years of achievement, its Golden Anniversary class, the forty-fifth to graduate, can be proud of its four year share in the history of the school. The class of '51's record in all fields has been worthy of the high standards established in the past half century. This class supplied more than its share of student leaders. Harlan Parkinson was President of the student council; Richard Ramsey-Vice-President, and Freda Wiley-Secretary. Dale Cook, Georgina Alvarado, Marvel Scott, Betty Smith, Todd Steele, Bernard Riedl, Bob Wakeland, and Alan Wright were members of the student council.

Mr. Burnett, Mr. Wood, and Miss Lester were sponsors for this group.

This class has made notable achievements in the fields of scholarship, music, dramatics, and athletics - achievements which will close this half century and begin the next 50 years.

Good Wishes, Graduates - Dr. Richard J. Rogers, Chiropractor

FORCEFUL AND RESOURCEFUL

Tops in magazine sales; winners of the March of Dimes inter-class contest; sponsors of a school party, and one of their own; a successful play; and giving the seniors a swell prom were only a few of the activities contributed by the juniors this year.

Their leadership was evidenced by the fact that five of them, JoAnn Parkinson, Don O'Hair, Leon Armantrout, Donna Miller, and Richard Tucker were members of the student council. Miss McKee, Mr. Bodecker, and Mr. Miller were the sponsors of this unusually active and interesting group.

FRIENDLY AND SELF-RELIANT

Initiative and personality were the characteristics of this first-rate class of sophomores. Representation on athletic teams, in scholarship, music, and other activities, as well as the fact that their candidates won the titles of king and queen of the carnival, and their float won a prize in the homecoming parade make this fact evident.

Ken Messenger, Barbara Eichenberger, Paul Hott, and Bill Patton were chosen as student council members. Miss Epler and Mr. Manatowa aided the group throughout the year.

QUANTITY PLUS QUALITY

The old saying that "the best things come in small packages" doesn't always hold true as was demonstrated when the 84 freshmen entered the portals of SCHS. After initiation was over and the seniors partially forgiven, the freshmen made a place for themselves in the school and in our hearts.

These verdant freshmen were counseled by Mrs. Greenlee and Mr. Ohmart. Norman Keyse, Nancy Ramsey, Robert Crist and Charlotte Wells represented the class on the student council.

BEAVER STAFF

"So small the number, so many the tasks", might well be the motto of the eight whose responsibility it was to publish a school paper, a yearbook, and a weekly column in the local paper. Theirs was the never ending task of collecting and presenting the news and features of interest to the school and community.

In addition to the regular staff, six students helped with the advertising and art copy for the yearbook.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

In this Golden Anniversary year the Student Council sponsored many and varied activities which included the homecoming celebration and parade; the all-school carnival which they planned and presented; the many school parties, the most outstanding of which were the Football Prom and the Valentine Ball; and the serving of the sports teams throughout the year. One of the most important tasks was the job of trying to better the school morale and keeping it high, and the stressing of the importance of good sportsmanship.

Three students are selected by each class to represent them on the council. The rest of the delegates are chosen from the departments at large. The officers are elected by the entire student body.

Eleven council members and Mr. Burnett, their sponsor, journeyed to Dodge City to attend the District Student Council Conference.

The Council was guided by Harlan Parkinson president, and Mr. Burnett, sponsor, in this 50th year.

Todd Steele, President of the Student Council, officiating as master of ceremonies in the night club at the all-school carnival.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Silver and golden anniversaries were celebrated by the 130 Y-Teen girls this year--25 years of service for the Y-Teen, formerly the Girl Reserves, and 50 years for Scott Community High School.

Special highlights were receiving the gold seal, the highest merit award; the mother-daughter banquet; attending conference; Y-Teen-YWCA Christmas party; Christmas assembly; participating in the world week and day of prayer; and the May Fete.

Each girl served on a committee whose projects included presenting programs for the club; distributing Christmas baskets of food and toys; purchasing a pop corn machine and selling corn, candy, gum and cokes at sports events. Mrs. Wood and Miss Lester were advisors for the group.

OF SERVICE IN SCHS

"Clean speech, clean scholarship, clean athletics and clean living", was the goal of the SCHS Hi-Y members who endeavored to live up to their slogan both in school activities and in life.

Active in SCHS for the past 25 years, this group, based on religious principles, brought to us this year, as they have for several years, Clyde Hartford, youth counselor, to talk to and guide not only the Hi-Y boys, but also anyone else wanting and needing his assistance.

Sponsored by Mr. Mooney, this active club ran the concession stand at football games.

The cabinet members attended the regional conference of the Hi-Y organization in Garden City.

The Hi-Y cabinet members were Bob Wakeland, Bernard Riedl, Dick Ramsey, Alan Wright (president), Gene Hess, and Mr. Mooney (sponsor).

PERSONS OF NOTE

"Sing, sing, sing, how we love to sing," is the sentiment of the vocal department. A fine opportunity is afforded each and every student who desires musical training. The vocal groups are under the able direction of Mr. Louis K. Bodecker.

The various music groups made many public appearances throughout the year. Some of the major ones were: the chorus participated in the WKEA Music Clinic in December; the various groups performed for Baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies; the girls small ensemble sang for the carnival, the May Fete, and various clubs and organizations; the chorus, the glee clubs, small groups, and soloists participated in the WKEA music festival at Dighton in February, and the district contest at Dodge City in April.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

These aspiring musicians, under the direction of Mr. Merrill O. Wood, participated in a spring concert; the Music Clinic at Leoti; WKEA festival at Dighton in February; the district contest at Dodge City in April; and played for Baccalaureate and Commencement services and other activities.

The marching band played for various parades, football games, and journeyed to Hays to participate in their Homecoming Parade and view the football game.

This year's unusually active pep band played for pep assemblies and all home basketball games.

The beginners or freshman band, composed of 39 members made enormous gains in musicianship, and will be able additions to next year's A band.

The Beavers turned in a good season with a record of five wins and five losses, the best for SCHS since 1945.

Playing seven of the toughest teams in this part of the state, the Beavers were never defeated by more than seven points. Scott chalked up 114 points for the season against 90 points for their opponents.

Only five of the 17 boys who earned letters are seniors so the 1951 gridiron outlook is favorable.

All the football boys were guests at a banquet given by the Lions Club. Several downtown football fans made it possible for 35 boys on the first team to attend the Oklahoma-Nebraska game at Norman.
